Thurgoona Drive and Fallon Street to be temporarily closed

Construction activity on the Thurgoona Drive interchange is set to accelerate as the necessary work gets underway to tie in the new with existing pavement and prepare to connect the interchange ramps across the existing local road.

In an effort to open the new Thurgoona Drive to traffic in mid August and with the level of construction activity likely to affect local traffic travelling on the existing road, Thurgoona Drive will be temporarily closed on Tuesday 4 July 2006 from west of the Main Southern Railway to west of the roundabout at Elizabeth Mitchell Drive.

Detours for heavy and light vehicles will be clearly signposted.

Additional measures being put in place to assist the Corrys Road community include:

- An 8 tonne load limit (buses excepted) during the construction period.
- A temporary pedestrian and horse crossing.
- A temporary reduction of the speed limit.

Fallon Street will also temporarily close on Tuesday 4 July 2006. The new Jelbart Road will enable access between Fallon Street and North Street during construction. Fallon Street is expected to reopen in March 2007.

Motorists are asked to observe all signage and traffic control directions to ensure public safety.

Abigroup regrets any inconvenience caused by this temporary closure.
